The Clark County School District (CCSD) Newcomer Model creates a safe and respectful learning environment that welcomes students with cultural and linguistic diversity. In partnership with schools, this framework will provide recently arrived students with opportunities and supports to engage in grade-level curriculum. The ultimate goal is to empower newcomers to graduate college- and career-ready.

Framework Domains

- Welcoming Practices
  - Orient families to U.S. expectations regarding education
  - Provide families with opportunities to learn about supporting their child’s academic success
  - Receive referrals to wraparound services

- Family Engagement
  - Ensure culturally-responsive teaching
  - Provide foundational literacy skills and language development support
  - Focus on leveraging students’ assets and primary language

- Instructional Supports
  - Ensure regular progress monitoring of content and language development
  - Counsel students on their progress
  - Inform and adjust instructional placement and supports

- Monitoring and Transition
  - Ensure students transition out of the newcomer status able to succeed in a U.S. school setting

Newcomer Definition

The U.S. Department of Education defines newcomers as any foreign-born students and their families who have recently arrived in the U.S. Additionally, the CCSD ELL Master Plan defines newcomer students as English Language Learners who have received less than two years of instruction in U.S. schools.

Individualized Language Learner Plan (ILLP)

The four newcomer framework domains will be driven by each student’s ILLP. This plan addresses academic and language goals by monitoring students’ progress which drives instruction. Students will transition out of the newcomer status able to succeed in a U.S. school setting. The ILLP is under development at this time.
